Methodology

This report was commissioned by the Downtown Detroit Partnership to provide actionable insights that will help guide the continued investment in and growth of the Downtown. DDP convenes business, philanthropic and government partners to create a vibrant and resilient urban core for Detroit and the surrounding community.

VERDAD Research, an independent and nationally recognized disabled veteran-owned firm, conducted the survey and analyzed the results.

Survey participants were invited through DDP’s print and digital communication channels, as well as through invitational collaboration with local corporate and community organizations. Responses were anonymous and collected online.

Over 4,000 people from across the Detroit-Warren-Livonia Metropolitan Statistical Area completed the survey, 30 percent of which live inside the Detroit city limits. Of the total respondents, a random sample subset of 1,067 was extracted, balanced across demographics including race and gender and providing a confidence level of 95 percent with a confidence interval of 3.

Question formats included Lykert-type scale, multiple choice and open-ended.
